John has more than 40 years' experience as a construction lawyer. He now practices as an Arbitrator, Mediator & Dispute Board Member. He is a panel member of many leading arbitration institutions.

John has been selected by the main legal directories for his expertise in the construction, arbitration and mediation. Comments include "One of the world's pre-eminent construction experts" and "One of the top 30 construction lawyers in the world".

John is a Fellow of the International Academy of Construction Lawyers, Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Building, Fellow of the International Construction Law Association, Grade A Accredited Professional of IBEC, Fellow of the Faculty of Building. He has been Chairman, then President of TeCSA, Vice Chairman of the Academy of Experts, Dean of the Faculty of Mediation & ADR, Board Member of the Civil Mediation Council, Chairman of the LCIA consultative committee.

Kazuhiko Bando, President, Japan Commercial Arbitration Association

Kazuhiko Bando is the president of the Japan Commercial Arbitration Association since August 2019. He developed his career for about 30 years at Ministry of Economy Trade and Industry of Japan. During this time, he took charge of policymaking in various matters including trade insurance, natural resources and energy, and trade and economic cooperation. He was a managing director at Japan Finance Cooperation and CEO at Nippon Export and Investment Insurance.

Daniel Allen, Foreign Attorney, Mori Hamada & Matsumoto

Daniel Allen is an international arbitration specialist with Mori Hamada & Matsumoto, which has its origins as one of Japan's premier law firms, and now spans the Asia region. Daniel has been based in Japan for more than five years, where his work has focused on representing Japanese and regional clients in complex and high-stakes international commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. He is an experienced advocate, and has argued commercial and investment cases before arbitral tribunals constituted according to a wide range of arbitral rules, including ICSID, UNCITRAL, ICC, SIAC, JCAA, and others.

Daniel received his law degree from Stanford Law School, where he was the managing editor of the Stanford Journal of International Law. Before joining Mori Hamada & Matsumoto, he practiced U.S. patent litigation with Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP in New York, and international arbitration in Tokyo with the Magic Circle law firm Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer. In addition to his work as counsel, he enjoys an appointment as Lecturer at Kobe University Faculty of Law, where he teaches graduate-level courses on international arbitration and international dispute resolution."

Moses W. Park, Barrister, Liberty Chambers

Moses W. Park is a dispute resolution lawyer practicing as a barrister (trial advocate) based in Hong Kong. His practice mainly focuses on conduct and resolution of cross-border and international commercial arbitration and litigation. He has successfully handled a broad spectrum of commercial work with an emphasis on civil fraud, asset-tracing/recovery, enforcement of foreign arbitral awards and judgments, securities and investment products as well as shareholder disputes. His clients have included international corporations and businesses as well as high and ultra-high net worth individuals.

Moses' work extends to regulatory fields (providing advice on matters governed by securities and competition legislation) often involving a mix of private and public law elements. He has recently contributed a chapter in Construction Contract Essentials in Hong Kong published by the University of Hong Kong Press. He is currently serving in the Committee of Arbitration and the Committee of International Law at the Hong Kong Bar.
